

Operational benefits

Company resources can devote their time to real business value drivers and core competencies

Improve performance through restructuring or reengineering of business processes

Reduce time to market

Support mergers and acquisitions

Technological benefits

Gain access to people, processes and technology otherwise unobtainable

Establish technical advantage

Enhance service delivery capacity

Financial benefits

Reduce IT costs through IT efficiencies

Reduce the risk of investing in the wrong technology or significantly limit the capital investment required